

Soapy study Work by Emmanuel Tussore to feature at Abroyan Factory as part of Beirut Art Fair

Photo courtesy of Emmanuel Tussore

BEIRUT: Aleppo soap is central to the practice of artist Emmanuel Tussore, who uses it as a medium in sculptures, installations, photos and films. Pictured above is a detail from Tussore's 2018 installation "City," which is among the works expected to be on show during the artist's exhibition "Study For A Soap," opening Sept. 17 at Burj Hammoud's Abroyan Factory. The show is organized by South Border Gallery as part of the Beirut Art Fair. — The Daily Star